Home Appliance	390.28	12.68	-10.81	-25.27	2,106.49	13.23	-3.55
Net Sales	3,077.38		-7.10	-2.83	15,922.04		-0.74

Revenue in May reached NT$3,077.38 million or 7.10% down from last month, but only slightly down 2.83% from May in 2007. Annual accumulated revenue from Jan. through May in 2008 totaled NT$ 15,922.04 million, down 0.74% from the same period in 2007.

Digital Consumer Electronics

Revenues came from Digital Consumer business primarily, representing 42.64% of revenues. Because of the traditional low season, coupled with the impact from US deteriorating economy, some new product shipments were delayed to June, leading to 15.05% sales decrease in May than from last month. However, the continuous adjustments in product lines will keep on improving the gross margin. The annual accumulated revenue was down 2.45% YoY.

Wire and Cable

Sales in Wire and Cable represented 23.20% of the total sales. Wire and Cable business tends to grow stably. Revenue in May was up 4.87% on a month-to-month basis. However, it dropped 6.92% YoY, due to the fact that there was one-shot order at NT$101 million last year. The annual accumulated revenue was up 1.62% YoY.

Industrial Appliance

Industrial Appliance was about 21.41% of the total sales. Because the average prices increased for industrial market this year, sales rose 1.68% from April and up to 10.90% from May, 2007. The annual accumulated revenue was up 3.25% from the same period a year ago.

Home Appliance

Home Appliance accounted 12.68% of the revenue. Medium and big sized refrigerators started ramping in Vietnam factory in second half of 2007. The ramping was not as smooth as expected as to affect the sales in Taiwan. Meanwhile, the compressor manufacture and sales were moved to China and sales were recorded there. As a result, revenue was down 10.81% MoM and 25.27% YoY respectively. However, with the improving production ramping in Vietnam and the coming peak season, sales in Home Appliance is expected to grow. The annual accumulated revenue declined 3.55% YoY.
